About This Game

Have you ever wished to be sitting next to a fireplace during a rainstorm, camping in the woods, or standing on the edge of a beautiful mountainous landscape? Now you can with this virtual reality (VR) room-scale experience. Available for the HTC Vive, this experience will be more relaxing and exciting than anything available for the price. This game isn't quite classified as a game, but that's the point! It's more of an experience. There has been a lack of relaxation/meditation type games out for the Vive on the market and this is a solution to that. It's a place you can go to relax, to reflect, unwind and just listen to the in-game 3D audio sounds of nature/3D sound effects.

The fireworks part is really nice to watch and to play with. The indoor fireplace scene where it rains outdoor is too complex and juddery on my GTX 780Ti GPU. This scene needs some optimization. The other two landscape scenes are relatively bland and would require higher res textures and details to be really enjoyable.

. I'm sorry but this experience is very small and not as nice as in the trailer. Maybe it will be developed in the future but for now it is not worth paying money for. Sorry. dont bother, very low res textures and the fireworks make the framerate drop easily. Even if this were free to play i would still feel ripped off. Good idea, and solidly implemented. Textures and sound could use some love, but dev has said continued work is coming. Worth the cheap price, especially as a relaxing way to demo VR to newcomers, but if you're looking for a well polished product I'd give it some more time.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fq-xPjQ_zRc. I LOVE this. Its small, its inexpensive, and I've spent LOTS of time in the fireworks area. I have no idea why it says I've only been in for .7 hours...I easily have been in watching just the fireworks longer than that.

The woods..I had fun crawling on the ground through the plants...I'm sure I looked like an idiot in RL..whatever.

The cabin...sitting in there is easy to forget I live in the city while watching the rain on the windows.

The mountain...I rather liked sitting on the edge and looking down...I have a fan blowing on me..added to the illusion..again, probably looked like an idiot..

The lobby...surreal. laid down on my floor and just watched the orbs for a bit. Might try drinking and going into this place.

The fireworks....I absolutely love being able to control the shells. That being said, one of the shells bogs my machine down...I'd love to see it optimized. I've got a GTX980ti, 16G RAM and I5 6700.. I was really looking forward to this, the lobby area with metallic balls suspended in the air looks great but it's really all downhill from there. I could sit in Skytower and watch youtube videos or just chill. This, not so much. The environments aren't detailed and whilst the cost isn't great I wouldn't recommend, well, its not as pretty as i thought and missed frames pops up A LOT, but its just released maybe in time?

Simply put: Don't buy it!

Long version: You get four experiences (not counting the menu), of which one is okay: the fireworks are nice to watch. But all experiences are very clean and unnatural, e.g. "The Mountain" experience is simply a very low textured area where you are not allowed to wander around, but are limited to a very small area (possibly 3m x 3m). That is nothing compared to the "Vesper Peak" experience you get in "The Lab" for free! Furthermore there is a living room with a fireplace and rain outside the window which is also very sterile, but ok. The last one is a "walk" in "The Forest" which is simply an offence. There is no walk - again only a very restricted area - and the trees look very very simple. I don't know where the good reviews come from, but I feel very disappointed! I do like to sit down on "Vesper Peak" (The Lab) and enjoy the scenery, but I don't think I can enjoy any of these four experiences like that.

Some additional words: The main reason I feel that much disappointed is that this product is not marked as early access or work in progress while it seriously is either a bad product or an unfinished product. The advertising simply does not match the state of the product. I bought a couple of games in early access to support the developer and when I bought them I knew what to expect and so it was ok and I am excited to play these games after each update. I will change my review if this product gets improved.. I really really loved the fireworks. So much attention to detail. The sound was off to compensate for the speed of sound. Just wonderful. A few performance issues here and there but definitely worth the money.. I'm sorry but four empty small rooms with nothing to do should not cost money. I want to like this game, I really do, but for me, it's less than 50% playable. the fireworks map works ok, so long as I don't do more than a couple fireworks at the same time. the woods map is nice, but the mountain map, even though it's low res, gets enough frame skips to cause me motion sickness. the rainy room map looks cool, but seriously, the frame skipping is so severe that less than 1 min in that room is enough to cause me motion sickness for a couple hours after

intel skylake i6-6700k

6gb ram

gigabyte factory oc gtx 970 (windforce)

This either needs some serious optimization, or else a graphics adjustment setting somewhere.

I love the concept, and will NOT be returning it, But with how rough it still is, even after the first optimization update, I can not recommend this game to others unless the optimization issues are fixed, or if you have a new pascal based nvidia graphics card (1060, 1070, 1080 etc), AND if you are looking to get your Zen on in a nice relaxing environment, then this is the game for you. but as is, that's a fairly specific subset of an already small target audience.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VfOuSYY1WO4>. I like those calm VR experiences where you just walk around and enjoy a nice scenery and I would also be willing to pay something for it if it is well made. But since we have Destinations, the Lab and a lot of other free scenery apps, like the master of them all Google Earth, a tech demo like Vistacapes VR falls short.

I bought it on sale for 50 cents and do not regret it since I just like having games in my collection anyways, but for non-collectors I can say, save your money and enjoy the mentioned programs which deliver so much more content and perfection.

Unfortunately not recommended.
